Dear Parents and members of the College community

Thank you to all members of our community for their support and understanding yesterday in regard to the hazardous weather conditions. As broadcasted on the radio our aim was to remain open and enable learning in some form to continue in such a weather event.

With the volume of snow in some of our outlying areas and significant road closures a number of students and staff were snowed in. As these conditions will continue into tomorrow please exercise every caution and stay at home if you do not believe your son or daughter can safely travel to a bus stop or the College.

With a rare weather event we will use our College website (www.mackillop.tas.edu.au), Twitter (@KillopMac) and local radio stations to communicate to parents. Should conditions require that school be cancelled a banner message will be displayed to this effect on the front page of our website.

Can I ask parents support in communicating directly with our College Office (6245 0099) if they are unsure or have received a contrary message from their son or daughter via their own personal mobile?

Your son or daughter’s safety is of paramount importance to us and once they have arrived at the College we will do everything in our power to ensure they are engaged during the day and that some form of learning does occur.

Thank you again for your understanding and sincere apologies for any inconvenience caused – it will be nice to see the sun in the coming weeks.

Yours sincerely

Mrs Sue Howard
Deputy Principal
